

TJC Cagers Play Tonight; Introduced At 10:01

TJC Squad Seek 2nd Baylor Scalp

The Apache Cagers take to the hardwoods tonight, at 8 p.m., against the Baylor Freshmen in an effort to chalk up a second victory over the Bears.

The Baylor quintet gave the Apaches a close race the first time they met, with the score nip and tuck until the final buzzer. The Indians wound up the game by scalping the Bears to the tune of 76-63.

Hustle and speed are the main weapons that the Bears use. Coupled with bustle and speed, will be the memory of their first defeat which they suffered at the hands of the Indians, factors that will make them hard to handle.

The Apaches are favored to take the tilt, but they will have difficulty in doing so.

The probable starting lineup for the Apaches will be Burl Plunkett at center, Merle Gorman and Jack Mosher at guards, and Glenn Pearson and James Sitton at forwards.

Sit In Student Section

Tonight a student section will be roped off in the gym.

At previous games the student section has been crowded with adults as well as with students.

Student spirit and yells can better be made a part of basketball games with this added action.

Attend the basketball game tonight and sit in the new reserved student section.

Course-Dropping Deadline Is Near

April 7 has been designated as the deadline for dropping a course, Mrs. Frances Flaherty, school registrar, announced.

Students wishing to drop a course without receiving "F" must have an application card from the office, signed by the teacher of the course and by Dean Edward M. Potter. Mrs. Flaherty said that she would then erase the course from the schedule card and officially drop the student from the course.

If these instructions are not followed, an "F" will go down on the student's record. This is a permanent record and the course will be transferred as a failure.

Students are asked not to drop a course unless it is absolutely necessary.

Annual Staff Making Last Finishing Touches

The Apache staff is putting the finishing touches on the annual in order to meet their Feb. 20 deadline, Miss Mildred Howell, annual sponsor, said.

Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, is handling the publication of the book, and according to Miss Howell, they are nationally famous for the production of school annuals.

DENSE AND SPARSE—John McMillon (right) whose modest beard won for being the shortest, feels of Tony Andretta's thick, dark beard. Tony received the prize for having the longest, thickest beard after seven non-shaving days. There were 25 entrées in this Sophomore sponsored contest.

Andretta Wins; Razor's Back In Use

From a group of twenty-five razor-shy lads, Tony Andretta emerged as the winner of the beard growing contest.

Tony's heavy five o'clock shadow captured the first prize while John McMillon's sparse growth won acclaim for being the shortest.

Needed Shrubs, Trees, Rose Bushes Aid In TJC's Beautification Program

TJC's campus is in the midst of a beautification program.

A large number of shrubs, trees, and rose bushes have already been planted — with special emphasis being placed on rose bushes.

In addition to the more than 1000 rose bushes that have been donated to the college, E. M. Potter, dean of the college, said, a large number of shrubs, trees and other plants have been ordered.

The master plan, now in only the rough stages, is being drawn by Ray Breedlove, a Tyler nurseryman and graduate architect. The work is under the direction of Frank Baldwin, Tyler Junior College Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

College officials have indicated that the shrubbery, trees, and rose bushes are only the first step in the plan. The tennis courts are scheduled to have a complete over-hauling.

Final Respects Paid 'Doc' Witt

Although "Doc" Witt has passed on to a supreme land, his deeds and kindnesses still and shall continue to claim the hearts of all those who knew him.

There's not anything or any certain place to start about with a man as great as J. F. Witt. He was to many people a person who was the foundation of their musical career. To others he was just plain old "Doc." To those that knew him well, there will never be a place so remembered as was his studio or band hall. For the ones that took lessons from him, a familiar foot tapping to the beat of the music will not be forgotten.

Yes, that's a memory no one will forget. The long climb up the stairway, hearing the students ahead of you and finally hearing "Doc" saying, "Hello Sugar, come on up and sit down." Always a smile and always just "Doc."

To you that didn't know him, you've lost one of the sincerest, most generous, helpful persons that Tyler Junior College has ever had. His attitude to everyone was was one of tribute. Never once did you hear him ridicule or defame one's standards.

It's too bad that tributes and honors are said and done after the person is gone, but tributes to the living are few and everyone doesn't take them to the heart.

But everytime a band plays or a student takes up his instrument, we can imagine "Doc" smiling happily to himself — his tribute has been paid in full.

This seven day contest started February 1 and was climaxed last Friday night at the Sophomore blue jean dance.

Others on the razor shortage list were Charles McRay, Jack Gossett, Allen Hines, Johnny Linney, Tommy Hawkins, Jack Fennell, Royce Franklin, Frenchy La Roux, Alex Gimble, Albert Smith, Donald Norris, Edgar Turman, Jerry Hill, Bill Robinson, Larry Dorsett, Fred Buchanan, George Murad, Everett Nix, Gene McKibben, Clyde Carlisle, Kenneth Moore, Ronald Bogue, and Damon Walton.

Dancing, cards, ping pong, dominoes, and cold drinks converted the TeePee into a haven for blue jean clad TJCers.

Coach Jasper Flanakin was the judge.

Information, Cards Furnished By Office

Students wishing to get an admission card, a registration card, or any other information from the registrar's office should see Mrs. Francis Flaherty during her new office hours.

Her hours are 8 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. and from 3:19 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Laughs, Yakking, Stomping Create Class Disturbances

By ANITA CREMER

Finally after yakking all period, the instructor is about to make THE point. Pencils are poised to retrieve the gem of wisdom, but as it falls from the lips there is a resounding crash, a deafening scream, and the bell rings. Consequently, the gem is lost and the next exam is failed.

We all agree it's swell not to have a class sometimes, but poor souls who are imprisoned that hour find it hard to do any learning with as many loud and varied sounds seeping through the walls as come out of the record, "Deep Night!"

It would be simple to solve their problem with sound-proof classrooms, but sound-proof students would prove much cheaper. Also,

Dance, Rally, Fun For All At Teepee

Cupid is due to receive a helping hand today at the Teepee's open house to start at 10:01 a.m.

The open house will feature a Valentine Dance, pep rally, and an introduction of the basketball players.

The latest in popular records will be used for the dance with all the squaws and braves of the reservation invited. Anyone who wishes may camp around the domino tables, play ping pong, or various other games featured in the Teepee.

Cupid is not the only one needing the students' support today. The Apaches will take on the Baylor 'B' team in Gentry Gym tonight, and the pep rally that will be held at the open house will indicate what the Indians on this reservation think of the warriors of the hardwood.

The entire war party will be introduced by Coach Wagstaff in order that the student body can meet the boys who represent the college on the basketball court.

The basketball wars have been long and hard, and no easier sailing is seen in the near future. The conference title is at stake in the next few weeks and if a national championship is to return to TJC or Baylor, the conference championship must be won. The team must be backed 100 per cent.

Applications For SS Should Be Filed Soon

All eligible students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1953 should file applications at once for the April 24 administration, Selective Service National Headquarters advised today.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 10, 1952. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

Good Attendance Urged

Attendance may mean the difference between passing and failing a course, an office spokesman announced.

The only excuse for missing a class is illness or some other emergency. Attendance records being kept in the office and all absences will be placed on the student's permanent transcript.

College officials have ventured the opinion that the better attendance record a student has, the better chance of the student's receiving a good grade.

On Thursdays a passerby might find the chemistry laboratory filled with some twenty-odd students battling with the elements of science. Due to the loss of such a large number of "scientists," the room must be feeling rather lonely and bare

Cagers Need Backing Too

During the course of the year, it has been carefully observed that the school spirit at Tyler Junior College is somewhat lacking during the basketball season.

When we started to school, the leaves on the trees began to change color, and there was a feeling of football in the air. Soon, the grid iron was being kept hot by the brilliant coaching and playing of the Apaches. The Indians were supported well by the student body in every single game that they played. Time passed quickly and the football team fought its way to the Junior Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena, California. Throughout this period of time the spirit of the students never dropped, but with the final whistle that ended the Rose Bowl game the student support and spirit died.

Let's go back to the beginning of school once more. While the majority of the boys at the athletic dorm practiced with hip pads, shoulder pads, and thigh pads, there was a small group of boys that practiced in Gentry Gym without the use of pads. That small group is our present basketball team. Working out through the football season in order to give TJC a good basketball team, the squad has done fairly well thus far in the season in spite of several bad breaks resulting from injuries and sickness. Up to now the cagers has given their best for their school. Now I ask you this question, "What have we given them?"

The team wants only one thing — this school's support and spirit. The Apache football team received the students' full support, and it seems only fair that the student body give the basketball team its support also.

What do you think?

Campus Pride Urged

No, there aren't any signs boldly emphasizing "stay off the grass" or "deposit your paper here". At TJC the people take such pride in feeling that the campus is a personal achievement that these signs are not necessary. But with the new campus beautification—clean-up campaign getting into full swing, a few reminders may be helpful.

Trampled shrubs and a naper clad campus not only distract from the school but they leave the impression that the students are not only thoughtless and careless, but knowingly neglectful. These occasional happenings would tend to make TJC seem uncared for.

Huge waste containers are stationed at various corners of the buildings. Take time to deposit discarded candy wrappers, notes, and other waste naper. Avoid stepping on new shrubs; give them a chance to give your campus life and looks.

By continuing to take care of the campus, it will not be necessary to mar it with signs of reprimand.

Ray Bartlett, Murry Thompson, Charles Krause, Charles Holcomb, and Jerry Carney are some of the boys who have joined the service lately.

Did you know that there is an all-English newspaper published by students of Mexico City College? It would be marvelous if any of us could write in Spanish one-fourth that well!

Several Apaches and ex-Apaches have tied the knot during the past few weeks. They include Wanda Jordan and Bobby Wright, Letha Daily and Bill Glisson, June McCune and Allen Thompson, and Dean Petty and Donna Haines.

To . . . The women of the world From . . . Miss Experience Your heart is not a plaything; Your heart is not a toy, But if you want it broken, Just give it to a boy!

Dolores Hawkins, Patti Vaughn, Sue Hawk, and Carrie Lee James were among the several who quit TJC at the end of the fall semester to work.

Just Browsing

TJC is fortunate in having a library that is more than what the dictionary calls a building or apartment devoted to the collection of books.

The students at Apacheland fail to recognize the activity occurring in the library, as did the reporter from the Pow Wow when he was assigned.

After meeting Mrs. Johnnye Kennedy, school librarian, the idea of a stuffed shirt for a librarian vanished as many other disillusiones were soon to do.

Mrs. Kennedy pointed out a fact that is obvious now. She said things were always happening in the quiet haven for study.

A new shipment of twenty-five books had just been received and she felt the students might be interested to know how they appeal to various interests.

The shipment includes A Soldier's Story, the story of General Bradley, The Forrestal Diary, Basketball Illustrated, Football Technique and Perry's The Story of Texas A&M.

For some strange reason, Mrs. Kennedy said, the majority of the athletic majors could easily be found reading the sports pages of the Tyler Morning Telegraph and the Dallas Morning News every morning following a basketball game or other athletic event.

The library assistants for the spring semester were announced by Mrs. Kennedy as Gwenda Mullins, Myra Nell Slaughter, Mary Hill, and Mrs. Lola Dykes.

The serious work, obvious to a visitor, is being done by Mrs. Elizabeth Bryarly's English 223 classes and Mrs. Georgia Jones's Economic 223 students.

Miss Bryarly's students are reading works of the Romantic poets, and a book on economic problems in getting serious concentration from Mrs. Jones' charges.

For the past four and a half months the library has been a classroom for a "Great Books" course taught by Rabbi Harvey Wessels every Monday night.

Don't sell the library short. There's something going on all the time in there.

Oh! you don't believe me? Well go and see for yourself.

Dr. Snarf, the economics professor, really believes in the adage, "Experience is the best teacher."

Practical Jokers May Hold Hopes For Future Years

If there is one guy who can still laugh in this troubled old world, it is the guy who is probably the biggest nuisance on the same old globe, the practical joker. But in the same vein, this same obnoxious guy might be a ray of hope in straightening out the present day worries.

With arguments flying back and forth across the oceans, it has been suggested by one United Nations delegate that perhaps a little laughter would clear the air a bit. Although the Soviet Delegate's reply to this suggestion seemed to think that clearing the air would only help us to see problems more clearly, still there's the old adage to fall back upon. Laughter is the best medicine.

Of course, to eke a laugh out of the character known as practical joker requires much discomfort, still the jokes are not really harmful and in the years to come, an uncomfortable situation even becomes humorous to the victim.

Practical jokers are from all different walks of life, too. They vary from big shots in all walks of life to just a common, everyday, unrecognized citizen. Regardless of the stature of the perpetrator, the purpose behind them is the same. That purpose is the healthy laughter that is the result of a joke.

ONE OF OLDEST JOKES

The late president, Franklin D. Roosevelt relieved a little of the tension at a crucial meeting, when tempers were beginning to become a little edged. He pulled probably one of the oldest types of practical jokes. He yanked the chair out from under one of his cabinet members. The resultant laughter put the delegates to the meeting in a decent mood again, and the business of the meeting quickly progressed.

Whenever practical jokes are mentioned though, the name of Hugh Troy is usually brought up. Troy is conceded the title of Dean of practical jokers and Hugh is one man who has probably worked some of the biggest coups in the field.

As a sampler of the Troy technique, there is the one example of the time that Hugh has a bench made for himself that was exactly like those in New York's Central Park. He smuggled the bench in and then after a little stay, picked the bench up and started to stroll casually out. When he was stopped by a policeman, he whipped out a bill of sale and then went on his merry way, leaving the gendarme, standing, mouth agape. Troy pulled this trick once too often though, and as a consequence found himself booked for disturbing the peace.

Another famous Troy escapade is fairly well known. It concerns the time that Hugh employed several men to dress in overalls and pose as workmen. Then, Hugh and his cohorts began to dig up the street at one of New York's bigger intersections. The policemen were very obliging for a short while, too. They helped Troy put out red flags and lanterns and as another gesture they blocked off traffic at the intersection. The ruse was discovered after a while, but only after traffic had been tied up around that particular intersection for more than three days.

A retelling of some of the many different escapades that were pulled off by the clan of practical jokers would take up far too much space. Suffice it to say that their tricks bring laughter to many after the freshness of the episodes dies down a bit. As it stands now, perhaps what the UN delegate had said goes. Perhaps a little laughter would clear the air. At least the practical jokers are in there pitching.

TJC Sororities Begin Semester Rush With Teas

To-Kalon and San Souci sororities have begun their second semester rushing with teas given in the afternoon of February 10.

San Souci's introductory party was held at the home of Shirley Bracken. The final rush party will be held at Carolyn Jo White's home. Since most of the pledges for this year were selected during the first semester, only six girls will be pledged.

To-Kalon's first rush party was held at Joanne Fletcher's home. A valentine theme prevailed throughout the decorations and refreshments. Venita Krause will be the hostess for To-Kalon's second tea. So far, no restrictions have been set for the number of girls to be pledged.

Both sororities will give out their birds on Friday, February 22.

Atta Kula Kula Entertains Girls

Girls of TJC were entertained Tuesday at an Atta Kula Kula sponsored Valentine party. The Valentine bedecked lounge was visited by students and teachers during the 10:01 period.

Mary Nell Tate was in charge of the refreshments.

A box for questions concerning "Personal Problems" was on hand. Questions were placed in the box for use on February 26 when Mrs. Vivian Young will speak on the subject and answer questions.

Mrs. McLean received her training at Newell and Newell Sanitarium in Chattanooga, Tenn. She also studied at Louisiana Polytechnical Institute in Ruston, La.

Before joining the faculty she was nursing private cases in Tyler and had previously taught English in high school.

Student Nurse Awarded Caps; Assignments

Caps were awarded twelve vocational students in a candlelight ceremony in Tyler Junior College's science lecture hall.

Dean Edward M. Potter was the first speaker at this traditional ceremony for vocational nurses. His words of welcome to those watching the ceremony were followed by a challenge to the nurses by Miss Ruth Binder. She urged them to continue their vocation and to conduct themselves in such a manner to be a credit to all nurses.

As Mrs. Vivian Young presented each nurse, Miss Binder placed the coveted cap on her head. The lighted candle, symbolic of Florence Nightingale, was given each girl by Mrs. Mary Thornton.

This memorial ceremony was closed with the Nightingale pledge.

Nurses assigned to Mother Frances Hospital are Eleweyna Cameron, Jo Gentry, Ruth Hart, Jeannine Colbert, Bobbie Peters, and Dorothy Vice.

Nurses Irene Hulse, Nyrean Miller, Leatha Nix, Winnie Pertuit, Barbara Korkmas, and Patsy Chapman were assigned to the Medical Center Hospital.

Beta Delta Alpha Holds Initiation

Beta Delta Alpha, TJC's branch of the National Emergency Fraternity Delta Pis Omega, held its annual banquet at the home of Mrs. Jean Browne, sponsor of the organization, on the 24th day of January.

Twelve new members were initiated. In order to become a member of Beta Delta Alpha, students must have performed outstanding work in the field of dramatics.

Officers were elected for the spring semester. Heading the group is President Gwenda Mullins, aided by Vice-President Charles Stratton, Secretary Allen Hines, and Treasurer Shirley McBride.

The new members are Allen Hines, Charles Bowker, Charles Stratton, Joel Arnold, Gwenda Mullins, Jeffrey Kamel, Bobby Kennedy, Shirley McBride, Tommy Malone, Donald Peters, Ray Callicoatte, and Ted Bryan.

Rev. M. Timms Guest Speaker At BSU Meeting

Reverend Moses P. Timms of The Truvine Baptist Church was the speaker at the Baptist Student Union meeting last Thursday.

He spoke on "Actions Speak Louder Than Words." It was brought out that one lives his examples instead of speaking them.

BSU meets every Thursday at the 10:01 activity period at the BSU club building located across the street from the TJC cafeteria.

Any Baptist can be a full member, but all other denominations are urged to attend the meetings.

According to Carroll Bryant, BSU president, singing and outstanding speaking are a main part of each meeting.

Other officers include James Graham, program chairman, and Bobby McCollum, secretary.

In Duke University's first 14 basketball games this season, Bernie Janicki scored 212 points and made the same number of rebounds.

Weaver Pacing Midwestern Five

O'Neal Weaver, former Apache great, along with Freddie Whilock, has paced the Midwestern quint to their last four victories.

Weaver has been rolling along at a 20 point average throughout the season. Whilock, in his last game, poured in a neat 18 points to lead the pack along with Jimmie Browning making a few that counted the most.

The high flying Indians took over an undisputed first place in the Gulf Coast Standings last week by breaking even with N.T.S.C. at Denton. The Eagles dropped Midwestern 69 to 67 only to lose out the following night 57 to 52. After the smoke cleared, the Midwestern quintet ended on top with five victories and only one defeat.

Tribe Suffers First Loop Loss Since 1948 Season

Tyler Junior College's Apaches suffered their first conference defeat Thursday night, February 8, since 1948.

An air-tight defense set up by the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla., gave the Farmers a 64-51 victory over the Tribe on the Aggies home court.

Apaches Can Clinch Flag By Nipping KC

TJC's Apaches can clinch a fifth straight Big Six Conference championship by beating Kilgore in Kilgore on February 23 and Paris on our home court, February 29.

Tyler has beaten Kilgore in Tyler 114-74 and downed the Paris Dragons in Paris, 73-66 in previous encounters.

Cameron's Aggies issued the only conference defeat to the Tyler quint in Lawton to the tune of 64-51. The Farmers had previously lost to the Apaches in Gentry Gym, 65-44.

Courts To Be Completed

Tennis players of Tyler Junior College will soon have four new courts to play on. Planned to be finished last summer, the tennis courts are just now being worked over and, according to President Jenkins, will be completed in a few weeks.

Tyler also faces the Texas Freshmen here February 18; Wharton, February 21; and close out with a conference game against Paris' Dragons, February 29.

The Apaches will be out for revenge in the Texas game. The Shorthorns could do no wrong when they laced the Apaches 72-55 earlier in the campaign at Austin. Baylor recently issued the Texas five a 49-44 defeat.

The Tribe won from Wharton and Paris in earlier games on the victims' floors and should not be hard pressed. Wharton went down before the Apaches 92-52 in the first game of the season at Freeport. Paris sustained a 73-66 defeat from the Apaches, however graduation took their ace Gil Turner and with him some of the offense.

The probable starting line-up for the Tribe will be Burl Plunkett, six feet three and one half inch at center; Glen Pearson, six feet three inches and James Sittin, six feet one inch at forwards. The guards will be Jack Mosher, five feet ten inches and Merle Gorman, six feet even, or Smith Markham, five feet ten inches.

Three TJC Cagers Become Ineligible

Gossip has been flying the campus about three Apache cagers that became ineligible for conference mid-term.

Danny Matthews, the guard from Dallas, was the first to become ineligible. The "Big D" was not passing his and had to be dropped from the roster.

The second boy to leave the squad was Earl Hill Moore, a red head from Centerville, who had difficulty in keeping grades and met with the same fate as Matthews. Moore is now home busily engaged in his business with his father.

Last but not least was a 6' 7" Gene McKibben, a scraper from Freeport, Texas, ruled ineligible for conference because he had played to semesters of college ball arriving at Tyler Junior College. Gene is still attending school at TJC after turning down a play with the House of David.

Gene McKibben Turns Down Pro Basketball Offer

TJC's former basketball player Gene McKibben, turned down an offer to play professional basketball for the House of David.

The six foot six inch cager was offered a position on a nationally famous quint at 28, but decided to turn it down.

McKibben said he would play some college ball and the professional status would make him ineligible for college.

The House of David is well known for its bearded players and its fine basketball record.

TONIGHT'S GAME

The off-on Apache quintet hit the hard-woods again tonight against the Baylor Cubs. Tyler won in a previous contest at Waco but since that time the Baylor Frosh have won every encounter. If the Apaches are on, they can and will take this one in stride, but don't let the Cubs fool you. They're tough, and the home court may be the deciding factor if the students back them up. Don't let them down.

INTERMURAL BASKETBALL

Last year a little interschool rivalry was created by a Intermural Basketball Tournament. It's still not too late for the Student Council to take it up, provided the students want it. It appears from this writer's viewpoint that many things could be done if you, the student body, would get behind the faculty and Student Council and back them up. Submit ideas and improvements, not just petitions to run each officer out of office because the job is not carried out. It's you that really counts. If enough students wanted something bad enough, I'm sure the Student Council would co-operate.

Telephone Not For Use

The telephone in the registrar's office is a business phone and is to be used in case of an emergency only.

If it is necessary to use this phone for any reason, please ask before you use it. If too many students use the phone, it creates a disturbance which is very serious.

A telephone has been provided in the Snack Bar for the use of the students.

REGIONAL TOURNAMENT

March 6-7 are the big days for TJC. Few people realize that some of the top teams in the state will be competing for national honors. Fewer still realize that to play in this tournament is one factor, but to win the regional and national tournaments is a feat very rarely accomplished. TJC has won two national titles and naturally every team will be gunning for them. Already they've lost their first conference game in five years. It could be very probable that they will lose out in the big one if they aren't backed up by some students instead of all just regular fans. Jacksonville will bring a large group over to cheer their team to victory. Earlier in the season Tyler beat Lon Morris by two points. This time it could be the other way around.

Golf Classes Be Organized

Golf classes will be organized in the Science Lecture Hall, Tuesday, February 19, at 8:00 p.m. by Coach Floyd Wagstaff. The Apache mentor will give all the information necessary to begin classes in the tournament.

No fee will be charged for all the necessary equipment. It will be furnished by Pro Ralph Gan of Willow Brook Country Club. Morgan, who is well known as one of the best golfers in the South, will instruct and take the course.

Any student attending Tyler Junior College is eligible to take this course, regardless of how many hours he has or is taking. Golf will be counted as Physical Training credit and transfer to any college.

Classes will be held in the Gymnasium and on the college campus for the convenience of the students.

All TJCers who are interested in taking this course are to attend the meeting.
